Ruth Cordingley holds her brother Wayne, 2, who points to the medal she won for saving him from drowning. Ruth, who lacks one hand, swam through the thin ice of an Uxbridge, Ont. pond last April to save him. A new artificial right hand was awarded her for her feat together with the Girl Guides Silver Medal.

WEST NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The Elton Willing Workers held their annual meeting at the home of Mrs. Arnold Hoag last Wednesday, with nine members present. A baby comforter was completed for the Red Cross. The "bit of fun" was to try and drop clothes pins in a milk bottle, leaning on the back of a chair. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. M. Campbell. The sum of $25 will be sent to the fund for diphtheria for the Small Citizens' Home.

Among those attending the Stampede last week were Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hoag, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cowitz, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Hodge and Mr. and Mrs. L. Banting.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Brown of Rosedale, B.C., who have been spending the last 10 days with the latter's daughter, Mrs. Alice Blair and son, continue with friends around the district, left for Saskatchewan on Wednesday to visit for a few days.

A slick artist was at work in the district recently when he passed some "no good" cheques at the local stores.

A no-hostess supper was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cowitz Tuesday of last week, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. O. Thompson of California. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. Rigby, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bagshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Thompson of Red Deer and Mrs. O. Krebs.

It was reported that Mr. C. Russell is doing nicely after his operations at the University Hospital on Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Byrt visited Mr. and Mrs. W. Weidner on Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Krebs and Mrs. O. Krebs were Calgary visitors on Monday, where Mrs. L. Krebs received medical attention.

FRANKLY SPEAKING . . .

The grandmother was 86 and on the slim side, but she was not one to take guff from anybody. Purchasing a dress for the wedding of one of her 18 grandchildren, she surveyed herself in the shop mirror and gestured doubtfully to her bosom.

"The dress is too full across here," she commented.

"Oh, no," returned the clerk hastily. "You can stand a little fullness. After all, you haven't got as much there as some of the rest of us."

Grandma's eyes snapped defensively. "That's right," she retorted, "but I had it when I needed it!"

LOCAL GOLFER SCORES AN "ACE"

And then there was the fellow who complained about his golf game and then went out and made a hole-in-one on the second hole at the local golf course one day last week. His name? George McDonald. Down George, down!

CREMONA NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

INTENDED FOR LAST WEEK

Mr. and Mrs. M. Earle are vacationing for a couple of weeks with Mrs. Earle's parents.

The Strawberry Festival, presented annually by the W.A., was held last Friday afternoon in the church basement.

Mr. Marchand has commenced work on his new garage.

Mrs. Bertha Stevenson, formerly of Cremona, was married to Mr. Steve Melaky of Belly, in Calgary, on June 30th. Guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. N. Whitlow, Mr. and Mrs. K. Bergeson and Mrs. Lawrence Bergeson, all of Cremona.

Mr. D. Watkin was hostess to her immediate neighbors on Thursday, June 26th, in a belated birthday celebration.

Little Richard Casebeer returned home from hospital on Friday, June 27th.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Simington are vacationing in Prince George.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Bird and family are visiting with Mrs. Fry's mother in Penticton, B.C.

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED AT SHOWER

Mrs. R. Gillrie and Mrs. D. Gillrie were hostesses at a delightful shower held at the former's home recently honoring Miss Daechin Blakemore, Reg.N., bride of Mr. Donald McArthur.

Mrs. W. Blakemore, of Cheshire, England, who arrived recently by plane to attend her daughter's wedding, was also an honored guest.

During the evening Mrs. Walton of Innisfail delighted the guests with two violin solos and humorous contests were also enjoyed.

The many beautiful gifts were presented to the guest of honor on a decorated stretcher, carried in by Miss Jeanette and Miss Margarette McArthur, who were dressed as nurses.

Jeanith graciously thanked the guests and the friends for their kindness.

Mrs. W. Wringleworth, Joan Alden and Gail Gilchrist assisted in serving a delicious lunch.

AND THE LIGHTNIN' STRUCK FOR SURE !!!

Numerous reports have been received of lightning damage suffered within the town following the storms of last week.

TVs sets were blown out, deep freezes got a hot foot and even the Pioneer office was on the list one night when a fast bolt knocked out the main switch on one of the machines.

This we can do without!

Squirrel Cage . . .

JUST ANOTHER BONE . . .

A man took his Great Dane to a veterinarian. "Doctor," he said, "you've got to do something. My dog does nothing but chase sport cars."

"Well, that's only natural," replied the vet. "Most dogs chase cars."

"Yes," the man agreed. "But mine catches them and buries them in the back yard."

TODAY'S CHUCKLE . . .

You really have insomnia if you can't sleep when it's time to get out of the sack.

Medal Play At Golf Course Sunday

The weather has played havoc with the golf program but it has not stopped members from enjoying themselves.

There will be a medal competition for the men this Sunday. The winner of the lowest net score will be awarded the Didsbury Challenge Trophy. He can then be challenged on a medal play match on handicaps. Challenges are limited to two per week.

The lowest aggregate scores for this and our last medal competition will be drawn in pairs for the club champion.

Last Thursday the ladies competed for the hidden hole competition which was won by Mrs. Lois Salmon.

Wednesday, the president vs. vice-president competition will be on the ladies golf menu.

The July 24th competition will be drive, pitch and putt.

Ground Generators, Aircraft Work On Hail Suppression

The following is a resume of operations from W.R.D.C. covering the first three weeks of the hail season.

Generally the season has not been as severe as last year, yet there have been several hail threats.

The 1958 hail suppression operation started here on June 20th over a portion of the M.D.'s of Kneehill and Rockyview, and the city of Calgary. A total of 136 ground based generators have been set up to protect the project area. Each of the ground equipment companies is using two aircraft, equipped with output generators. These aircraft are a Cessna 180 and a Luscombe 8 E. The pilots have many thousands of hours of flying experience.

To date, a total of 2218 hours have been operated and the aircraft have operated on 17 different days during the three-week period.

There has been damaging hail in the area on three different occasions. These locations are: north east corner of Kneehill M.D., west of Airdrie and north and west of Sunnyslope. While the size and amounts of hail in each storm was rather small, each storm was accompanied by extremely high winds and heavy snow. The damage incurred there might have been expected. The acreage so damaged is a very small percentage of the total. Both Kneehill storms did considerably more damage outside the area than inside.

There have been reports of some severe hail damage in the province: Bentley, Lacombe and Edmonton to the north; the Crows Nest area to the south, and the foothills west of the M.D. of Rockyview.

During the period mentioned, rainfall totalled $1.10 inches.

Clarke Calf Is Show Champ

A large gathering of parents and families saw the first combined Clarke Calf Club show held recently in Olds.

Judge Owen Richards of Red Deer placed the various classes and the show was under the general supervision of district agriculturist, Howard Fulcher and the club leaders. These were Clarence Spence of the Carstairs-Didsbury Club, Bob Armstrong of the Olds Club and Alex Craig of the Betchon Club. Mr. Hugh McPhail also assisted in judging.

The grand champion calf was exhibited by Mary Jane Clark of the Carstairs-Didsbury Club while Phyllis Hunter of the same club took reserve champion honors.

The Calf Club was established in 1948 and the members of the club, while the animals exhibited by Ken Spicer and Phyllis Hunter.

Pee Wee classes in the Olds and Carstairs-Didsbury Clubs were also judged and the results are as follows:

Open Calf Class: Pam Brooks, Isobel Hunter and Helen Hunter. Showmanship Class: Mary Wright, Alice Platt and Donna Chant.

TV POLICY UNCHANGED

Revenue Minister Nowlan said Tuesday there will be no change "for some time yet" in the government's policy of licensing only one television station in any one area.

Mr. Nowlan told the Commons that any change will come only after passage of legislation which he hopes to introduce as soon as possible this session, and after a new regulatory body is set up and broadcasting regulations set up.

SORRY . . . MAYBE WE CROSSED YOU UP

Guess we failed to mention in the last issue of The Pioneer that there would be no paper on July 10.

As we've mentioned elsewhere it has been our custom to give the machines, the staff, and you, a breather at this time of year.

COUPLE HONORED ON 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Watkin were honored on Saturday, July 5th, the occasion being their 25th wedding anniversary. The affair was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake.

Miss Valeria Watkin, assisted by Miss Margaret Hanson, Mrs. Kelvin Shannon and Mrs. J. A. McGealey of Calgary, received the guests.

On behalf of those present Mr. Charles Dougherty presented Mr. and Mrs. Watkin with a purse of silver dollars. Friends from Edmonton, Drumheller and Calgary were present for the event, which was a complete surprise to the honored couple.

NOTICE

Lack of co-operation from the weatherman is delaying progress on the playground project. However, a water line has been dug into the site.

Don't forget the Kin dance on Friday, July 18th at Melvin, from 9:30 to 1:30 p.m.

The Kinsmen were victorious in a softball game on Thursday, July 10th, when they played the Cremona Woods.

They will appear again on Thursday, July 24th, when the Didsbury Lions Club will provide the opposition. If you got a kick out of the last game between these two teams you'll enjoy this one. Because why? It's going to be "donkey baseball".

The Kinsmen picnic will be held at Westward Ho on Sunday, July 20th, starting at 12:30. Those attending are asked to supply their own transportation and lunch.

Sure 'nuff, the Rambler has roamed home once again following one of those "too-short" vacations. We saw some nice country, some not so good, south of the border; met some very nice people; in most cases were thoroughly whipped on the exchange deal (the majority down thataway think their dollar is as strong as ours); was a bystander as the women in our wee family disposed of what few greenbacks we had (at last count the "pay-off man" received one carton of cigarettes from the lettuce pile); got home last week to meet a stack of clean-up mail (more bills than cheques, more news that you expected to see last week). 'Twas ever thus, for many years past this fireside companion of yours has not been published during Stampede week. We just hope you missed us!

Just For The Record . . .

Anyone entering "our town" these days doesn't have to look twice to notice that there is a major road building program going on in these parts. Although plagued by wet weather the work has been proceeding at a fair clip and before too long we'll be riding on the smooth, black stuff, something that no other town between Calgary and Red Deer can boast of. Just another "first" for Didsbury."

It's There — Use It, But Good . . .

The Westward Ho picnic grounds, situated northwest of town, has been getting a big play this year from district residents who don't care to travel too far for a day's outing. We understand a concession booth is now in operation on Sundays and other special days and a clear water well is available. The other necessary conveniences are also available (they may be the old-fashioned type but they serve the purpose they were meant for). We'll see you out there one of these fine days.

Guest Editorial

Several times within the past few years we have heard the outbursts of young people, railing against the fact that they were born into a world of risk and terror, severely criticizing their ancestors for handing over to them the world in such a mess. A group of undergraduates in one of Britain's universities came out with this theme recently and we asked ourselves whether we

In no time at all the history of mankind have they inherited such an abundant life as they have today. The leaders who risk such outbursts are no credit to the educational institutions which have brought them thus far . . . unless the faculty members are at fault. Even the Children of Israel had to fight for the promised land.

True, we are in this very area had it pretty rough as Dr. Johnson pointed out when he spoke to the high school graduants here in May. We see many weaknesses in our economic set-up. Too many of our young men are looking for jobs riding the gravy train of the big corporations, while too few have the intestinal fortitude to launch out on their own and create a new enterprise.

Too many of us want the fruits of socialism and the benefits of capitalism at one and the same time. There may not be many new horizons of earthly development to penetrate, but there many realms of achievement not yet unveiled to man. There is still room job with the government.

THE Homemakers

By HELEN HOWARD
District Home Economist

Dear Homemakers:

The latest addition to the large family of new fabrics are the wash and wear materials:

The Care of Wash and Wear

1. Wash Frequently: Wash and wear garments stay fresher-looking during wear, so there is a tendency to postpone laundering. Don't.

Once these fibres and finished become heavily soiled or stained, they won't come clean easily. Pretreat stains and collar and cuff lines with water before washing.

2. Wash the Items Washed Together:
Some fabrics tend to pick up color and lint from others. Wash like fabrics together (put whites in a separate load).

3. Detergent: Crowding the wash causes wrinkling. (With hand washing, do one item at a time;
change water frequently.)

4. Choose Correct Water Temperature:
For moderate soil, cold water is effective and produces the least amount of wrinkling. For heavier or greasy soils, use hot or warm water. Use any detergent or detergent in soap or garment or a liquid detergent is good in cold water. Do not use chlorine bleach on wash and wear cottons and rayons, unless the garment label suggests it.

5. Shorten Handling or Machine Agitation: It should not be necessary to wash more than five minutes.
If slower agitation speed is provided on washer, use it to reduce wrinkling.

6. Rinse in Lukewarm Water: Add water conditioner (Calgon) to first rinse, unless water is already soft. A fabric softener ("Fleecy") in the final rinse avoids clinging and hanging.

7. Dryer Available: Remove garment from final rinse, hang to dry, or dry on low heat. With cold water washing or highly wrinkle-resistant garments, a short spin or squeeze is possible. Never wring. Before dryer-drying, do spin or squeeze out excess water.

8. Dryer Carefully: Be sure to keep the garment on a nonwrinkling hanger. Shape it on the hanger by smoothing seams, cuffs, button bands, etc., with fingers.
Hang trousers by cuffs on a spring-clip hanger.

9. Don't Overdry: Use the medium (140 to 160 degrees F.) or wash and wear garments. If it is cold, use a dryer and run on low heat.
Remove the garments while they are slightly damp. When drying very small loads, add a few clean towels to help tumbling action. Remove the garments and place them on hangers immediately, or they will re-wrinkle.

10. Iron Up When Necessary:
Use a steam iron or a regular iron on "low" for synthetics and blends,
"medium" for cotton, and use a dry press cloth when needed to prevent shine.

"The chemist has the secret in a few words.
He doesn't know if he's been, or is due!"

CREMONA NEWS

(Intended For Last Week)

The United Church Sunday school picnic was held on Saturday, July 6th. The rain held off long enough for all concerned to enjoy a pleasant afternoon.

The W.A. met at the home of Mrs. Gordon Reid on Friday afternoon, July 4th. Plans were made for a picnic at Dog Pound picnic grounds on August 2nd, instead of their regular meeting. Approximately $100 was cleared at the sale.

Best wishes are extended to Mrs. R. Fielder and Mr. A. Cameron, who are at present patients in the Didsbury hospital.

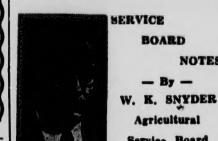

The last word received from Mrs. Marion Reid gave the information that she was viewing the sights in Brussels.

Mrs. Camp has her daughter Micky and four children visiting with her.

Mrs. Clarence Reid has her sister Doris from B.C. visiting with her.

Poisonous Weeds: This time of year is when you should be on the look-out to make sure that your livestock do not eat poisonous weeds along with their regular diet. Every year we get reports of stockmen losing some of their cattle to these weeds.

Agrain, recently, a farmer reported the loss of his entire herd. He traced the loss to the fact that they had eaten water hemlock. It does not take a great deal of this to kill an animal. Usually the plant pulls out of the ground fairly easily and both the stalk and root is eaten. They are both poisonous, particularly the root.

Usually these poisonous weeds grow in low-lying wet spots along with the grass. As cattle eat these parts it is very easy to pick up a piece of poisonous weed along with a mouthful of grass. Some of the more common weeds are:

Tall Larkspur. Purple Larkspur, Death Camas, Water Hemlock.

To prevent loss from this source the wise stockman should make sure his animals do not have access to poisonous weeds. They can be grubbed out, fenced out or treated with a very strong dose of 24-D.

Contrary to some opinions, 24-D is not poisonous and can be safely used at any time in pasture fields. Space does not allow us to give much detail of these poisonous weeds, but if you have a problem or suspect that certain plants may be poisonous, contact this office for further particulars.
